Tell it like it is

The search for tomorrow's documentary voices

4Talent Youth Jury Competition

Go on, let it all out. Tell us what you think makes a good documentary. How you would create a film that changes the way others see the world around them. Like Smalltown Boy for example: a finalist at last year's Sheffield Doc/Fest. The story of fifteen year old David who, fed up with being shunned for his sexuality, plans to show everyone that he's proud of who he is. So he becomes the first male carnival queen in his village.

Now we want young people to have a bigger voice in documentary making – and that's why we want you to be part of the Youth Jury at this year's festival where you can select the winner of the Grierson: Sheffield Youth Jury Award. But there's more to it than that. If you win one of the 12 places, you'll spend a week at the Channel 4 Hothouse, learning the ins and outs of the documentary-making world. You don't need any experience, but you do need a story to tell – and the passion to tell it. You must also have the confidence to stand up and make your voice heard – so start shouting.
